This Personal Use License Agreement ("Agreement") is entered into between Picasso 3D ("Licensor") and the individual or entity that purchases this license ("Licensee"), effective as of the date of purchase.

1. Grant of License

Subject to the terms of this Agreement, Licensor grants Licensee a non-exclusive, non-transferable, revocable license to access and use the Keychain Factory web application (the "Software") to design and generate custom 3D-printable keychain files ("Output") for personal, non-commercial purposes only.

Under this license, Licensee may:

- (a) Use the Software to design an unlimited number of custom keychains for their own personal use;
- (b) 3D print the Output for personal use;
- (c) Give printed keychains as gifts to family, friends, or other individuals, provided no payment or other consideration is received in exchange.

3. Prohibited Uses

Licensee may not, under this license:

- (a) Sell, license, rent, or otherwise commercially distribute any Output (printed or digital) created using the Software;

- (b) Use the Output in connection with any business, organization, or commercial activity, including but not limited to online marketplaces, craft fairs, commissioned work, or promotional giveaways tied to a commercial enterprise;
- (c) Resell, sublicense, share, or otherwise redistribute this license or access to the Software;
- (d) Copy, modify, reverse-engineer, decompile, or create derivative works of the Software itself;
- (e) Remove or obscure any copyright, trademark, or attribution notices associated with the Software.

4. Ownership

Licensor retains all right, title, and interest in and to the Software, including all associated source code, design, trademarks, and intellectual property. This Agreement does not transfer any ownership rights in the Software to Licensee. Licensee owns the specific Output files they personally generate, subject to the restrictions in Section 3.

5. Term and Termination

This license is granted on a one-time-purchase, perpetual basis for personal use, subject to Licensee's continued compliance with this Agreement. Licensor may terminate this license immediately, without refund, if the Licensee breaches any term of this Agreement.

Licensor does not guarantee that Output will be free of design errors or suitable for any particular 3D printer, material, or use.

7. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by law, Licensor shall not be liable for any indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages arising out of or relating to Licensee's use of the Software or Output, including failed prints, material costs or printer damage.
